Greetings Lodi Academy Families!

We hope you are having a wonderful summer break. We miss you all around here! Please take a look at some important upcoming dates and announcements. Many of your teachers have been taking their own classes and working on plans for next year.

I'm pleased to introduce to you our new English teacher, Robby Van Arsdale. He has his Masters in English Literature and is joining us from Central California where he previously taught in a similar position. I'm sure you will give him the warm Lodi Academy welcome when he joins us!

We are almost ready for you! If you have feedback that would be helpful to our planning for next year please share with me at: Principal@LodiAcademy.net.

Introducing

ROBBY VAN ARSDALE

English I, II, III, IV and Dual Credit English

Hey Lodi Academy!

I'm Robby Van Arsdale, the new English teacher. Personally, I think you can tell a lot about a person by how they answer silly little questions like "what's your favorite book" and "do you prefer cats or dogs" or "if you had a restaurant, what would it serve?" That's why I'm an English teacher. I like poking into people's thoughts and seeing what's there. I think that's the fastest way to build agape with someone new.

So, my favorite book of the Bible is Romans, and my favorite book is Ursula K. LeGuin's The Dispossessed (today, anyway). My favorite place to spend an hour is with my feet in a Sierra river in the shade of a big tree. My favorite color is no color at all but the relationship between maroon and purple, or yellow and white, or other relationships like that. My favorite hymn is 425. My favorite school is Lodi Academy, because it's mine, now.

So, maybe you know me a little better now. I'll see you all in August! - Mr. V
