LODI ACADEMY

03/03/2023

Another busy week of Academics with Adventure is coming to a close at Lodi Academy! Here are some of the highlights over the last few weeks:

February 13-17 was Student Led Week of Prayer, with each class organizing and leading out in a day, and Campus Ministries leading out in Vespers on Friday night. It is impressive to see the thought, planning, and prayer that goes in to this event. It's a privilege for our students to have opportunities to share their faith with their peers. It is really awesome to see God leading in our students' lives.

Sabbath morning, February 25 the Lodian Singers did music for Fairmont Church, followed up in the evening with a sacred concert presented by Lodian Singers, Lodi Academy Choir, and the Concert Band. The students did an awesome job! Did you know that at Lodi Academy sixty-six of the seventy-six students enrolled are in one or more of the music groups? One of our newest students, Seolane Chauzit, performed a beautiful harp solo.

This week we have Lodi Academy students visiting two of our SDA College campuses. One group is at Walla Walla for the U-Days, an opportunity for high school Juniors and Seniors to experience Walla Walla University. We currently have quite a few Lodi Academy alumni attending Walla Walla, and Martin Surridge, former English teacher at Lodi Academy, living in the Walla Walla area too.

Six musicians from Lodi Academy are attending the Pacific Union College music festival this week. They have the opportunity to learn more challenging music, play with a guest conductor, and socialize with other like-minded academy students. There is a concert planned for Sunday, March 5 at 2:00 PM in the Dougherty Valley Performing Arts Center at 10555 Albion Road, San Ramone. Tickets are for sale for $5. At the event.

Next Friday, March 10, is the end of the 3rd quarter of school. Hard to believe it is almost fourth quarter!
