

Lodi Grape Festival

“Funds for the Future” Scholarship Application Summary

The Lodi Grape Festival Scholarship Program awards numerous scholarships each year for up to $2,000 each. The scholarships are to be used to offset the cost of tuition, books and other expenses (with supporting documentation) associated with higher education. This scholarship is open to graduating high school seniors and college students seeking a bachelor’s degree. College students may re-apply for awards year after year, up to their fifth year of studies.

Who May Apply:

The Lodi Grape Festival Scholarship Program is open to any applicant who is:

- A high school senior graduating from a school in the Lodi Unified School District or whose primary residence is within the Lodi Unified School District, with a 2.5 or better grade point average who is applying to a trade school, two-year college or university or four-year college or university.
- A college student who graduated from a high school in the Lodi Unified School District or whose primary residence was within the Lodi Unified School District and is currently enrolled in a trade school, two-year college or university or four-year college or university with a grade point average of 2.5 or better.

Other Requirements:

Awards will be made on a reimbursement basis. Before receiving any portion of the award, recipients must: (1) prove in writing that they are registered in college; (2) prove in writing that the tuition payment or materials purchased are directly related to college education; (3) provide sales receipts showing the tuition or item(s) purchased, its price and the store/location where the materials were purchased or rented and (4) provide a total of the amount of reimbursement requested. Examples of items that qualify are books, calculators, laptops, parking passes or anything related to your major (i.e. nurses – stethoscope, uniform, shoes; welding students – helmets, gloves, goggles, torches, etc.) All reimbursement requests must be submitted no later than two years from the time that the award is given. Any reimbursement money not claimed after that time will be forfeited. A recipient may receive the award no more than two times. If the scholarship recipient that has received partial or complete reimbursement and then drops out or is expelled from school during the quarter/semester that the reimbursement was made the recipient must repay the money to the Lodi Grape Festival.

Characteristics Sought:

The application review committee is looking for a well-rounded individual that shows commitments to self, school, and community, and has a history of dedication and involvement. Participation in the Lodi Grape Festival is given consideration. Academic ability and financial need are also considered.

Areas of Consideration:

The application review process examines the applicants in four areas. All areas are important, though they are considered on an individual basis in descending order. Area one is considered before area two and so on. The four areas of consideration are:

1. Involvement/participation in the Lodi Grape Festival
2. Personal Determination, School and Community Involvement including but not limited to 4-H, FFA, athletics, etc.
3. Citizenship
4. Academic Performance and Financial Need

Deadlines for Applying:

January 15: Applications are available at the area high school career centers and the Lodi Grape Festival Business Office
March 1: The completed application must be returned to the Lodi Grape Festival Business Office no later than 5 p.m. If March 1 falls on a weekend the application is due by 5 p.m. on the following Monday.
April 1: Scholarship recipients will be selected.
May 1: Scholarship recipients will be announced at their appropriate school awards ceremony. If already a college student, you will be notified by the Lodi Grape Festival selection committee chairman.
